HWPS Fall Arrest Devices

These devices have been manufactured, tested and certified in Germany to conform to the European Standard DIN EN 360, as a Retractable Type Fall Arrest Device.

The IKAR HWPS Devices have been specifically developed to offer fall protection in an easy to use unit.

Working similar to a car safety belt, during normal use the user can move freely whilst the galvanised steel cable life-line is kept under permanent tension. In the event of a fall the locking system will activate and the internal brake disk will absorb energy to well below the 6kN limit required by the DIN EN 360 standard.

These low maintenance devices have a hard wearing, plastic housing and offer extremely low weight. The unit has a swivelled eye attachment point to prevent the life-line from twisting.

The IKAR HWPS Devices have been subjected to additional testing for horizontal use and can therefore be used where the user could potentially fall over a leading edge.
